The diagram is contained within a light blue rectangular frame. At the top of the frame, the text 'sm_atomic_performance_test_c_1' is displayed. In the center, there is a light blue box labeled 'src'. A vertical arrow points downwards from the bottom of the 'src' box to a white box labeled 'include'. The 'include' box is outlined with a red border. The number '1' is positioned to the right of the arrow, indicating a count or weight for the connection.
